Availability of natural raw materials

Dear customer,

Nature is the source of our extracts. Over 800 different plants form the basis for our high-quality products. Sustainable and careful handling of natural raw materials is particularly important to us. That is why we are continuously expanding our range of local, organic and Fairtrade plants. In addition, we are increasingly focusing on raw materials from secondary products (co-products, upcycled raw materials).

The current situation in global raw material procurement continues to be challenging. There are many reasons for this. Climatic changes, worldwide logistic bottlenecks or the Corona situation lead to delivery difficulties or delays (depending on the raw material additional 2-12 weeks). In order to ensure the availability of herbal raw materials, we recommend that you notify us of your requirements in good time or contact us to inquire about the current availability of your extract. Raw material stocks change daily, therefore we cannot provide you with a list of critical raw materials.

Framework agreements are also a good instrument to reserve raw materials to ensure readiness for delivery at any time. We will be happy to provide you with appropriate solutions or support you in finding alternatives.

Please contact us. We are looking forward to hearing from you.

Botanical greetings
